PARAGON OF PERIODICALS!

WHO LIKE

THE TRANSATLANTIC

AND WHY.

LITERARY people find in it the latest productions of the brightest minds in the world.
SCIENTIFIC men and the thousands interested in scientific matters read in it Europe's newest discoveries in science,
MUSICAL people want it for the latest gems of Europe's best composers.
STATESMEN and politicians keep informed through it of the laws made and the politics played in the countries of the other continent.
STORY READERS become acquainted through it with the clever writers of France, Germany, Russia and Italy. The literatures of these countries are rich in charming stories and novels.
PROFESSORS and teachers in colleges and schools find in it valuable information in their various lines of instruction, which has not heretofore been available.
WOMEN who want to know the latest society and fashion gossip as well as the progress of their sex in the European world will find it in THE TRANSATLANTIC.
EVERYBODY is interested in THE TRANSATLANTIC, and because what it offers can be found nowhere else. There is no other publication like it.

THE PAPER'S AIM AND HOPE.

It is the aim of THE TRANSATLANTIC to make easily accessible to the people of this continent the best fruits of the thought and literature of the other, and to inform them of the other's progress in art, society and life. It exists for the purpose of lessening the enormous waste of good work due to barriers of nature, nationality and language. For work is wasted in so far as it is not utilized to the fullest, and certainly it is not so utilized as long as the enjoyment of of its results is confined to those people who happen to speak one tongue or live on one side of a frontier.

THE TRANSATLANTIC oversteps these barriers. It journeys into foreign lands and says: "Give us of your best. What are your newest discoveries in science, your proudest achievements in art, your latest productions in literature? What are your churches teaching, what are your governors doing, what are your prophets predicting? How do your people live? What are their fashions and follies, what their virtues and vices, what their loves and hates, what their deeds and misdeeds?" For answers to these questions it searches foreign literatures, especially the periodical press; then it translates them into English, and offers them to all who read that language.

THE TRANSATLANTIC has no opinions of its own. It gives voice to the opinions of all the great thinkers of the world. It has no policy of its own, except the policy of impartiality. It is what it claims to be—a mirror.

It mirrors a continent. It knows the value of its reflections. It believes the people will appreciate them.

Not infrequent complaints are received from our subscribers of their failure to receive their copies of "Sun and Shade." The publishers keep a careful record of the date of mailing of each individual number, and the Post Office where mailed. With this their responsibility properly and legally terminates. With every anxiety to satisfy their subscribers, the increased and the increasing subscription list renders it impossible for them to replace numbers so lost. The Publishers will use their best endeavors to trace every number lost, but to do so it will assist them if the date of their subscription is forwarded with their complaint.

Are you a reader of the MAGAZINE OF AMERICAN HISTORY?

A BRILLIANT AND RICHLY ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY PERIODICAL.

THE BEST HISTORICAL MONTHLY IN THE WORLD.

This Magazine concerns itself with the history of every State in the Union, and with all parts of the American Continent. It is a monthly of long standing, having completed its twenty-first volume, and is without a rival. No reader of intelligence can afford to miss it, and all colleges, teachers, and schools find it indispensable. Its success has been phenomenal, and its circulation increases constantly. It is popular in style, bright and attractive, and it is a standard authority on all historic matters. The press praise it without stint.

WHAT IS SAID OF IT.

"The twenty-first volume is completed, and these volumes, handsomely bound, are a treasure in any library, public or private."—Pacific Educational Journal.

"It is a magazine to be commended without stint. It is wonderful in resource. It is of interest to-day, and will be of still greater interest to the generations that come after us."—Troy Budget.

"An almost priceless treasure of lore are the bound volumes of the "Magazine of American History."—New York World.

"This excellent publication is a public benefactor as well as an educator, exerting as it does an important influence in cultivating a taste for historic reading, and a desire for historic knowledge."—Freemason's Repository.

"It has almost at a single bound placed itself in the very front of magazine literature, and a chief leader of public sentiment in affairs concerning American history."—Toledo commercial.

"The series of satisfactory centennial articles from a memorial of the celebration surpassed nowhere, and give special value to the last and present volumes of one of the best periodicals in the world."—Christian Intelligencer.

"This periodical is one of the most valuable undertakings in American journalism."—The Churchman.

"This magazine is simply indispensable to students of history."—Montreal Gazette.

"We delight in this review, there are such choice chapters of American history told so vividly."—Zion's Herald.

"The scope and the variety of the subjects treated add much to the value of the successive numbers, and also to the enjoyment of the readers."—The Hamilton Review.

"It is an admirably diversified collection of papers, not too heavy for the entertainment of the average reader, and not too light for real value."—New York Tribune.

"This invaluable periodical overflows with bright and choice reading. In the artistic elegance of its printing it holds the highest rank in the magazine field."—The School Teacher, Winston, North Carolina.

"It seems never to lack for fresh and interesting topics, which are always presented in an entertaining manner."—Toledo Bee.

"It is just what is needed by every class in history."—The Normal Teacher.

"It is a marvel of elegant and accurate erudition and superbly artistic illustration. It is a beautiful publication, high priced and produced with lavish liberality as to mechanical quality of paper. type, etc., as well as to the quality of its literary contents."—Home and Country.

Established by EDWARD L. YOUMANS.

THE POPULAR SCIENCE MONTHLY,

EDITED BY WILLIAM J. YOUMANS.

SCIENCE is rapidly coming to be the controlling force in every field of human activity.

It has developed the clumsy dug-out into the swift ocean-steamer, and the slow-going cart into the flying railway-train.

Without it man is the sport of the storm demon; by its aid he predicts and prepares for the approaching cyclone.

Without it the industrial worker was a hopeless drudge; the growth of its applications has multiplied his comforts and increased his leisure.

Without it the race was powerless in the presence of disease; with its help epidemics are disappearing, and better health with longer life are secured.

Without it education was an unvarying routine of mechanical repetitions; upon it has arisen an art adapted to the needs of individual minds and to the conditions of modern life.

Without it the workings of society were not understood; with it we are learning the unvarying laws of social phenomena.

Without it fear was the only preventive of evil-doing; with it has come a rational basis for moral conduct.

Similarly, in every department of human activity, it is the great agency of improvement. In its steady progress it touches everywhere and affects everybody. It gives law to the material interests of the community, and powerfully influences the ideas, opinions and beliefs of men, so that all have an interest in being informed of its advancement.

THE POPULAR SCIENCE MONTHLY is devoted to supplying this knowledge in a form that can be easily understood, and for nearly twenty years has maintained a leading position among scientific journals.

With other illustrations, each number contains a finely engraved Portrait of some eminent man of science, with a Biographical Sketch.

The managers of THE POPULAR SCIENCE MONTHLY accept the steadily growing circulation of the magazine, and the large influence it has gained among the more thoughtful and liberal-minded readers in America, as the highest testimonial of approval of its past course. The utmost will be done to keep all its departments up to the hignest standard of excellence. Increasing attention will be given to the discussion of economic subjects and other leading scientific questions of the day. During the coming year the magazine will contain a series of papers from distinguished specialists on the agency of science in the growth of the leading industries of the world since the discovery of America by Columbus. A large share of attention will also continue to be given to scientific ethics, and the true sphere of government.

Deer Park and Oakland

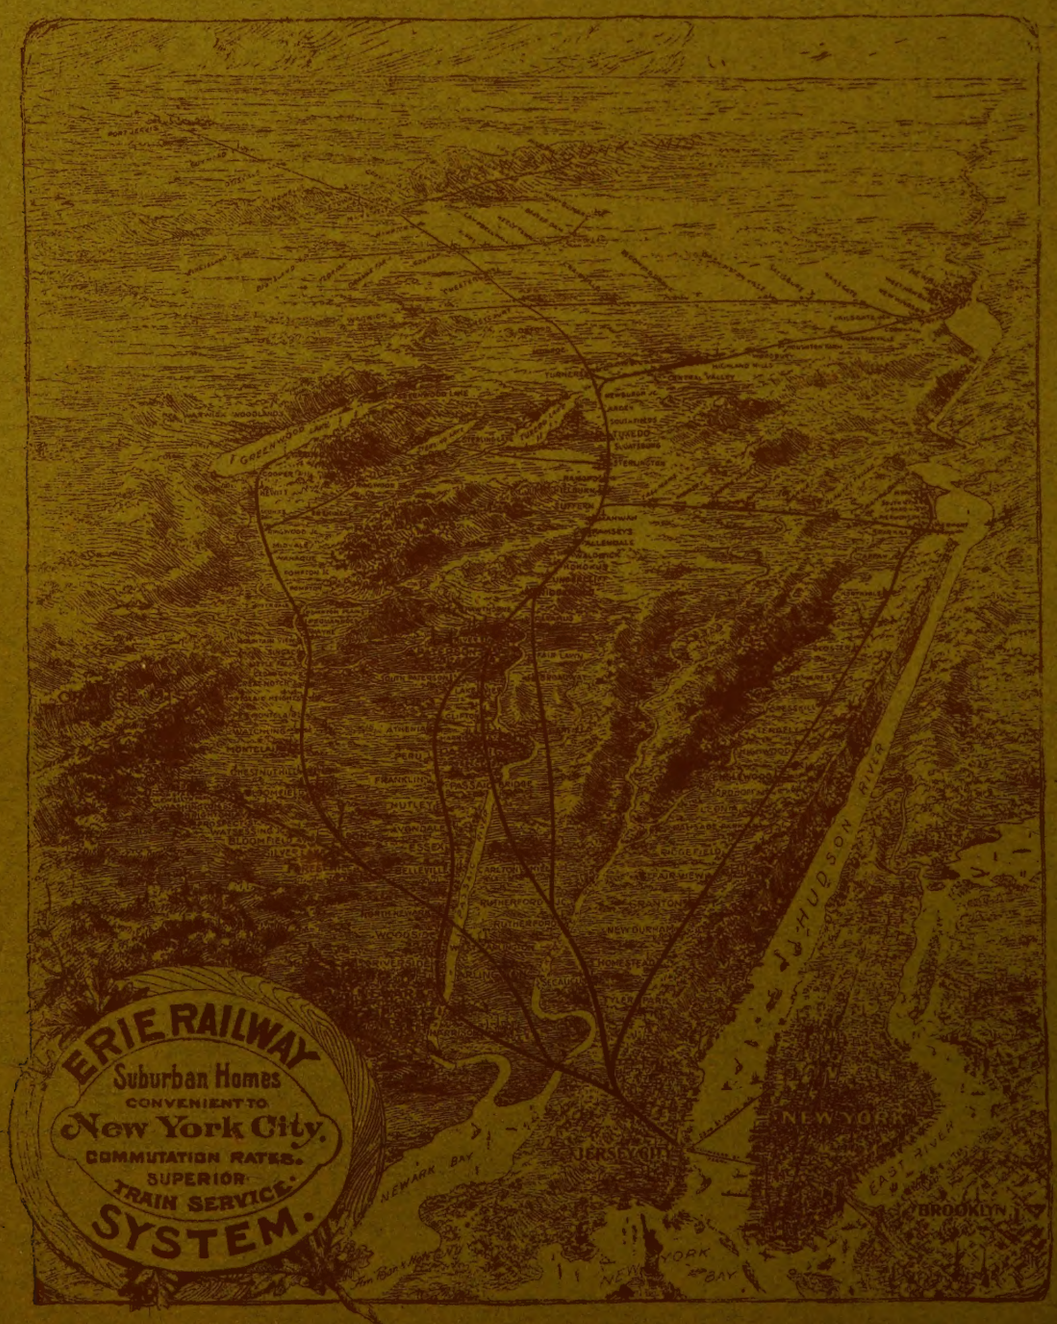
ON THE CREST OF THE ALLEGHANIES,

3,000 Feet Above Tide-Water.

SEASON OPENS JUNE 21ST, 1890.

JUNE 21, 1890.

These famous mountain resorts, situated at the summit of the Alleghanies and directly upon the main line of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, have the advantage of its splendid vestibuled express train service, both east and west, and are therefore readily accessible from all parts of the country. All Baltimore and Ohio trains stop at Deer Park and Oakland during the season. Electric lights have been introduced throughout the houses and grounds; Turkish and Russian baths and large swimming pools provided for ladies and gentlemen; suitable grounds for lawn tennis; bowling alleys and billiard rooms are here; fine riding and driving horses, carriages, mountain wagons, tally-ho coaches, etc., are kept for hire; in short, all the necessary adjuncts for the comfort, health or pleasure of patrons.

Rates, $60, $75 and $90 a month, according to location.


ALL COMMUNICATIONS should be addressed to GEORGE D. DESHIELDS, Manager Baltimore and Ohio Hotels, Cumberland, Md., up to June 10; after that date, either Deer Park or Oakland, Garrett Co., Md.
